Purpose, mission and vision

NIODA's purpose is to 'provide education in systems psychodynamic approaches for the improvement of organisations, community and society'.

Our mission is 'to open the space for groups and organisations to think differently... and to go on thinking in the face of turbulence; exploring and creating possibilities'

NIODA is the centre of excellence in Australia and a global contributor in academic programs, research and consultancy in applied systems psychodynamics recognised and utilised to improve leadership and management capability and grow resilience in individuals, groups and organisations.

Five year strategic goals

The following five year strategic goals are the foundational pillars for achieving our vision, and provide the central framework for the strategic plan:

1. Provide high quality learning environments in systems psychodynamics for a growing customer base
2. Grow NIODA's profile as a centre of excellence in systems psychodynamic education
3. Ensure requisite infrastructure for organisational sustainability and growth
4. Embed sound corporate and academic governance.

Strategy for achieving goals

To achieve these goals, NIODA's Strategic Plan identifies nine strategic initiatives, as below. In the Business Plan each initiative is broken down to operational elements with associated key performance indicators (KPI's). KPI's are reported on at each quarterly Board of Governance meeting.

1. Grow academic programs within NIODA
2. Grow human resources for sustainable delivery of a high standard of rigorous academic, professional development and consulting programs
3. Grow research and scholarship within NIODA
4. Establish NIODA Consulting as a viable business
5. Ensure adequate venue and facilities for delivery of Academic Programs
6. Maintain and extend NIODA's local and global academic and research links
7. Active in local and international field
8. Extend NIODA's reach into Australian organisations
9. Maintain requisite diversity of skills and experience in board members

Principal activities

The principal activities of the company during 2022 were the maintenance and development of the corporate and academic governance and practices necessary to enable NIODA to deliver the Doctor of Philosophy, Master of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics), Graduate Diploma of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics) and Graduate Certificate of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics) degrees to a high standard, both in terms of quality and efficiency.

The significant change has been the introduction of the Doctor of Philosophy and the nested Graduate Diploma and Graduate Certificate degrees.

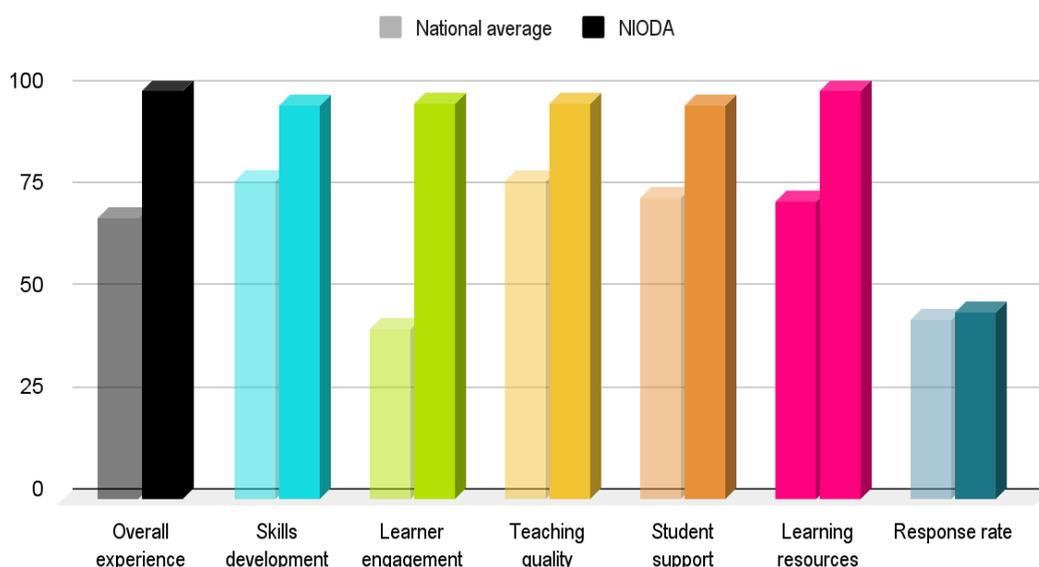

NIODA is a Public Company limited by guarantee incorporated and domiciled in Australia. The address of its registered office is 23 Thomas Street, Geelong VIC 3218 Australia. Its principal place of business is level 4, 601 Bourke Street, Melbourne VIC 3000 Australia. Postal address is PO Box 287, Collins Street West, Melbourne VIC 8007 Australia.

Successes in 2022

2022 has seen the successful introduction of the Doctor of Philosophy degree. Introduced into the delivery of the three-year Master of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics) are the nested degrees of a two-year Graduate Diploma of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics) and one-year Graduate Certificate of Leadership and Management (Organisation Dynamics). Student feedback has shown the high level of relevance and quality of the course content and delivery, with exceptional retention rates attesting to this. The accredited courses are the reason NIODA was created twelve years ago and is the raison d'être for all involved with the Institute - from Board of Governance members, Academic Board of Governance Board members and Ethics Committee members, to professional and academic staff. The commitment of all enabled a very successful year of embedding, refining and meeting this central educational objective.

Student Experience data is collected through the Quality Indicators for Learning and Teaching (QILT), a suite of government endorsed surveys for higher education. NIODA has outstanding results compared to the national average.

Student experience data 2021 & 2022 (QILT)

Surrounding this work has been continued focus on scholarship activities through research, consulting, workshops, seminars, the NIODA Symposium, and the NIODA Colloquium. Each activity has been well attended and appreciated, and has supported the building of NIODA's quality brand.

With recognition of the small size and the impact of the successful AAT hearing with TEQSA in relation to the accreditation of the doctoral degree and the COVID reduction in student numbers in 2021, a respectable profit of $29,214 was achieved in 2022.

These successes position NIODA to move forward with optimism.

Notes to the Financial Statements

Note 1 Summary of Significant Accounting Policies

These financial statements are special purpose financial statements prepared in order to satisfy the financial reporting requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Commission Act 2012. The board has determined that the organisation is not a reporting entity and have prepared special purpose financial statements due to the significant disclosures required for a general purpose financial report which in the opinion of the board adds little or no value to the content of the financial statements.

The degree of non-compliance with the recognition and measurement requirements set out in accounting standards for each material accounting policy is disclosed within each policy noted below. An assessment of the impact of non-compliance has not been made.

The financial statements have been prepared on an accrual basis, are based on historic costs and do not take into account changing money values or, except where specifically stated, current valuations of non-current assets.

The following significant accounting policies, which are consistent with the previous period unless otherwise stated, have been adopted in the preparation of the financial statements.

(a) Income Tax

The organisation is exempted from income tax under the provisions of the Income Tax Assessment Act - 1997 Subdivision 50-5.

(b) Cash and Cash Equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents include cash on hand, deposits held at call with banks, and other short-term highly liquid investments with original maturities of three months or less.

(c) Property, Plant and Equipment (PPE)

The depreciable amount of all PPE is depreciated over the useful lives of the assets to the company commencing from the time the asset is held ready for use.

(d) Goods and Services Tax (GST)

Revenues, expenses and assets are recognised net of the amount of GST, except where the amount of GST incurred is not recoverable from the Tax Office. In these circumstances the GST is recognised as part of the cost of acquisition of the asset or as part of an item of the expense. Receivables and payables in the assets and liabilities statement are shown inclusive of GST.

(e) Employee Benefits

Provision is made for the liability for employee benefits in respect of employees' services up to the reporting date and are measured at the amounts expected to be paid when the liabilities are settled.

Long Service leave is provided for when the employee reaches 5 years of service.

The accounting policy for employee benefits is not in accordance with accounting standards in that on-costs have not been included and the calculation is assessed at the current obligation to pay out entitlements.

(f) Revenue and Other Income

Grant and donations revenue is recognised in the statement of comprehensive income when the entity obtains control of the revenue, it is probable that the economic benefits gained from the revenue will flow to the entity and the amount of the grant or donation can be measured reliably.

When grants and donations revenue is received whereby the entity incurs an obligation to deliver economic value directly back to the contributor, this is considered a reciprocal transaction and the grant or donations revenue is recognised in the statement of financial position as a liability until the service has been delivered to the contributor, otherwise the grant or donation is recognised as income on receipt.

Fees charged for consulting and research services provided to clients are recognised when the service is provided.

Fees charges for student fees provided to enrolled students are recognised when the service is provided.

Interest revenue is recognised on an accruals basis.

All revenue is stated net of the amount of goods and services tax (GST).

(g) Going Concern

The financial report has been prepared on a going concern basis which assumes that NIODA will be able to pay its debts as and when they fall due.

(h) Tuition Assurance Reserve

In prior years a Tuition Assurance Reserve had been set aside in case the association was to close down. This amount has been transferred to accumulated surpluses during 2022 as NIODA is now paying a yearly Tuition Protection Assurance fee to the Australian Government.

7.1 Operational impacts

The NIODA COVID Safe Plan was established and is reviewed monthly at the Finance and Risk Management meeting with decisions made about continuing online or returning to onsite classes and all other aspects relating to risk and COVID.

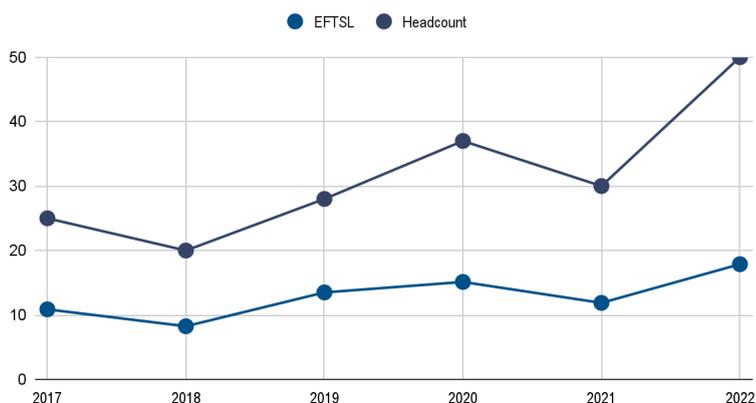

7.2 Financial impacts

The COVID had a significant impact on 2021 student numbers. 2022 had significant improvement in student numbers, however, the impact of 2021 will continue for several years as the lower numbers progress through the three year degree.

7.3 Future impact

NIODA offers all classes live interactive online in 2023 with hybrid onsite classes in Melbourne.

2. The financial statements and notes comply with the requirements of the Australian Charities and Not-for-profits Act 2012.
3. At the date of this statement, there are reasonable grounds to believe that the organisation will be able to pay its debts as and when they fall due.

Responsibilities of Management and Those Charged with Governance for the Financial Report

Management is responsible for the preparation of the financial report in accordance with the Corporations Act 2001, and for such internal control as management determines is necessary to enable the preparation of the financial report that is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error.

In preparing the financial report, management is responsible for assessing the company's ability to continue as a going concern, disclosing, as applicable, matters related to going concern and using the going concern basis of accounting unless management either intends to liquidate the company or to cease operations, or has no realistic alternative but to do so.

Those charged with governance are responsible for overseeing the company's financial reporting process.

Auditor's Responsibilities for the Audit of the Financial Report

Our objectives are to obtain reasonable assurance about whether the financial report as a whole is free from material misstatement, whether due to fraud or error, and to issue an auditor's report that includes our opinion. Reasonable assurance is a high level of assurance, but is not a guarantee that an audit conducted in accordance with Australian Auditing Standards will always detect a material misstatement when it exists. Misstatements can arise from fraud or error and are considered material if, individually or in the aggregate, they could reasonably be expected to influence the economic decisions of users taken on the basis of the financial report.

A further description of our responsibilities for the audit of the financial report is located at the Auditing and Assurance Standards Board website at: <http://www.auasb.gov.au/Home.aspx>. This description forms part of our auditor's report.
